CLASS HISTORY

Four years and some odd days ago, there came forth the Class of 1981. Filled with both anticipation and fear, we had great expectations of what was to come. Our first money making venture was a bake sale. In November we created a homecoming float which we proudly labeled "The Turkey's Revenge" but which the seniors labeled differently. In February of 1978, in the midst of The Great Blizzard, we instituted the Carnation Sale which was to become a class tradition. A month later, we held the St. Patrick's Day Dance, and in May, the Farewell Dance marked the end of our freshman year.

We all survived the "sophomore slump" and participated in a great variety of activities. In late October, we held a Magic Show featuring the Great Fu-Ling. When Homecoming rolled around once more, we created another float. This time the theme was "Beat the HELL-met out of 'em" and we won first place for that original idea. In February we held our annual Carnation Sale which was followed by a Book Fair a month later. In June our Ring Committee picked the motto "We Finish To Begin." By the end of the year, we were a class filled with school spirit.

Junior Year passed quickly. We began the year by receiving our class rings and celebrating at a dance. We lost the Powder Puff Game but vowed we'd "get 'em next year!" Our annual Carnation Sale and a sale of Lancer towels provided funds for our eagerly awaited Prom. Our successful Prom, "Tomorrow and Today," was held at Christo's II. Paul Dudley and Kelly Smith reigned as King and Queen as our theme song "If" played in the background.

FINALLY! Senior Year was filled with many events: The Welcome Dance with AAF, the Senior Picnic, the magazine drive, and the Spaghetti Supper. The Seniors defeated the juniors by scoring a touchdown in the final five seconds of an exciting Powder Puff Game. Our last Carnation Sale was held in February and our Senior Class Show in April. The year was filled making future plans for college, the service, or jobs as we looked forward to our Senior Class Trip, Class Night, and finally Graduation.

"We Finish to Begin"

Time — Where does it go?
It flies by so fast; yet, it seems so slow.
The past fades out as the future fades in,
For you see, my friends, we finish to begin.

Recall the priceless moments in times of stress,
Look upon the motto under our crest.
Remember the times we would sleepily awake,
Thinking of the tests we were not prepared to take.
We growled, scowled, moaned and groaned,
As to each teacher a blessing we entoned.
Better yet, remember the times we would hastily awake,
Thinking of the senior activities in which we were to partake.

Remember freshman year when we felt as
Strangers in a foreign place,
Until we realized our togetherness and our
Future was at stake.
Together we chattered and overcame our fears,
And courageously marched through each
Day of the last four years.
Now, we must all come together and
Fight away the tears.

Although the todays have spun away,
We still have all the tomorrows which
Are already today.
We now relive our high school past
From the outside looking in,
For you see, my friends, we have
Finished to begin.
